HIST 2111 Section 06 (50396)

Survey of U.S. History I

2026 Summer

Course Description and Prerequisites

A survey of U.S. History to the post-Civil War period.

Core IMPACTS

This course is part of Core IMPACTS.

Core IMPACTS consists of seven core curriculum domains (previously identified as areas A-E). Each Core IMPACTS domain is designed around a specific orienting question (goal or topic), learning outcomes, and career-ready competencies.

IMPACTS Domain: Political Science and U.S. History

IMPACTS Statement: This is a Core IMPACTS course that is part of the Political Science and U.S. History domain.

Orienting Question(s): How do I prepare for my responsibilities as an engaged citizen?

Learning Outcome(s): Students will demonstrate knowledge of the history of the United States, the history of Georgia, and the provisions and principles of the United States Constitution and the Constitution of Georgia.

Career-Ready Competencies: Critical Thinking, Intercultural Competence, & Persuasion

IMPACTS Domain ALT: Social Sciences* (If already satisfied Political Science and U.S. History domain with another U.S. History course)

Course Outcomes

Upon completion of this course, students will:

1. Draw conclusions about historical events to determine cause and effect relationships
2. Analyze and interpret primary and secondary resources
3. Present information derived from source material
4. Communicate effectively in individual and/or group presentations
5. Actively participate in group discussion
6. Interpret and understand assigned reading materials
7. Master knowledge of historical themes and events and demonstrate how the events have shaped current affairs.
8. Understand the role of race, gender, ethnicity, religion and class in the evolution of American society
9. Identify the historic role of America in the community of nations

United States/Georgia History and Constitutions Requirement:

As mandated by the University System of Georgia, all students must complete coursework in the history of the United States, the history of Georgia, and the essentials of the United States Constitution and the Constitution of Georgia. This course partially fulfills this requirement through Course Outcome 2 above, which addresses key concepts associated with significant primary sources in United States and Georgia history. These include the following primary sources:

- Declaration of Independence
- United States Constitution and Bill of Rights
- Articles of Confederation

- Federalist Papers
- Gettysburg Address
- Emancipation Proclamation
- Letter from Birmingham Jail

School of Liberal Arts Mission Statement

The School of Liberal Arts (SLA) serves students, the College, and communities throughout the metro Atlanta area through instruction, research, service, and performance in the Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences.

Course Title: Survey of U.S. History I

Credit Hours: 3

Semester Start Date: 05/26/2026 Semester End Date: 07/23/2026

Course Start Date: 05/26/2026 Course End Date: 06/23/2026

Modality: Online Instruction

Final Exam Details

The final project will be digitally submitted via D2L on FRIDAY March 8th by 11:59 PM. This date cannot be changed or extended. Any projects not submitted by the due date will not be accepted.

Online/Proctored Tests

In addition, this course requires the use of a proctored testing service/software such as Respondus LockDown Browser, Respondus Monitor, or ProctorU, and a webcam for online exams. The webcam can be built into your computer or can be the type that plugs in with a USB cable. The software may require you to scan the room in which you are taking the test with your webcam. The video of the room scan is only available to the instructor(s) of record, as well as appropriate IT staff and administrators.

If you are at home and have privacy concerns about a webcam scan of your surroundings, you can take the test anywhere you feel comfortable. If you cannot identify such a place, contact your faculty member prior to the date of the test to arrange for a separate room on campus for testing.

Web Conferencing

This course will use Zoom for online “virtual classroom” video conferencing sessions and collaboration activities. Some or all of the sessions may be recorded. Recordings that do not include video of individual students may be made available, and will only be available to the course instructor and the students enrolled in this course.

Resources Needed

Open Education Resources

This course follows a student-focused OER (Open Education Resources) model, meaning both software and course materials adopted will be at little to no cost to the students in this course. The goal of OER adoption within GGC courses is to reduce the total cost to graduation for students while maintaining high quality learning materials for our students. I've carefully evaluated and selected the sources that are best suited for our course, and I hope that you each enjoy learning new tools, using materials that are available at no cost to you, and having the freedoms provided by gaining access to materials that are constantly updated in the History discipline. If you're interested in learning more about OERs and their impact on student learning outcomes, I encourage you to read more about them from the Babson Survey Research Group.

Course Outline/Assessments

In order to understand the American past regular interaction with our online course in D2L is essential. The calendar and schedule of our course is set up in D2L. Please read my Announcements and do not hesitate to contact me if you need further clarification on any assignment or forum discussion.

20 % Forum Discussions- Three Truths and a LIE!

1. Develop Three (3) truths that have context and are connected to the weekly module. Develop one LIE that is closely connected to our modules as well. Number them 1-4, but do not put them in any type of order. Each truth/lie should be at least 250 total words. The more information, detail, and clarity provided, the higher the score. (+7)
2. Read TWO classmates' posts and decide which one is the LIE. Politely explain why you think it is a lie. You should engage in a few sentences of dialog with your classmates, not just "I think #2 is the lie". To get the full 5 points, you must include information from the source materials and cannot comment on a post that already has a response. (+5)
3. You must say THANK YOU to anyone who responded to your post, including explaining your lie/truth. If no one has responded to you, then thank yourself for completing the discussion. (+3)

30% Weekly Assignments

A variety of assignments based on the American YAWP reader as well as video lectures, readings, and other materials will be posted in D2L. All directions must be followed for full credit.

20% Midterm Project

The Midterm Project will be based on Myne Owne Ground Chapter 1. All parts of the project must be submitted for full credit.

25% Final Project

The Final Project will be a traditional research essay with four components: proposal, rough draft feedback, final essay, video reflection.

5% Mandatory BOR Assignment and Attendance Verification

The Georgia Board of Regents has enshrined into law specific documents all Georgia College students must be familiar with prior to Graduation. These assignments are MANDATORY and must be submitted to pass the course. Attendance Verification will be taken throughout the semester and must be completed to pass the course.

All assignments, essays and exams will be submitted in D2L. Email submissions will not be accepted.

Course Changes

This course syllabus provides a general plan for this course. The Faculty reserves the right to make changes to the syllabus, including changes to assignments, projects, examinations, etc., in order to accommodate the needs of the class as a whole and fulfill the goals of the course.

Expectations

As an online group, our aim is to study the cultural, political, and economic connections that have created The United States. We will cover multiple topics, including evolution, religion, the multiple rises and falls of different kingdoms, trade networks, gender, slavery and the slave trade. Fossils, archaeological ruins, oral histories, songs, epic poems, along with primary documents and current debates are the foundational sources that we will use to analyze and discuss American History from its many diverse perspectives.

A more individual objective for this class is for you to become a better reader, writer, and thinker. Understanding how to engage in historical debates fosters the critical thinking and analytical skills necessary for your intellectual development, even if you are a Film or Biology major. By working through the reading and writing assignments, you will have gained the necessary skills to craft your own chapter in American History.

At the end of our course, you should be able to demonstrate that you can engage intelligently with the source material and that you can understand some of the complex topics surrounding the historical struggles and achievements of the peoples of America.

Academic Integrity

GGC students are expected to demonstrate integrity and honesty in their courses and to complete work according to their instructors' specifications. Students are responsible for avoiding every aspect or appearance of academic dishonesty. While it is impossible to list all acts of academic dishonesty, examples are listed below. Additional details on academic integrity are found in the GGC Academic Policy Manual, Academic Integrity Policy for Academic Dishonesty Matters \(Policy 4.1.1.1.2\).

Academic Dishonesty. Examples of specific prohibited actions include but are not limited to the following:

1. Academic Misconduct: Performing, attempting to perform, or assisting another in performing any act of academic dishonesty.
2. Cheating: This act of dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, giving information to or taking information from other students during examinations. Cheating is also committed when students copy from unauthorized sources and/or represent some other person's work as their own. Collaboration on out-of-class assignments or examinations is considered cheating if prohibited by the professor. The use of Artificial Intelligence ("AI"), on any assignment submitted for credit is prohibited unless specifically permitted by the course instructor.
3. Plagiarism: This category includes copying material from unpublished or published sources, including electronic resources, and submitting that material as the student's own work. Students are responsible for identifying the proper source and for giving credit to that source anytime that they present ideas which are not their own.
4. Unauthorized Use or Possession of Materials or Resources: Students must not use or possess unauthorized materials or resources in an academic activity.
5. Collusion: This act of dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, buying or selling material that can be misrepresented as a student's own work. In addition, students who fail to report known acts of academic dishonesty on the part of others may be held responsible for collusion.
6. Previously submitted material: Students may not submit work that has been or is being concurrently submitted, in whole or in part, in another class without first having received permission to do so from all the professors involved.

7. Misrepresentation or falsification of material: This act includes, but is not limited to, misrepresenting, fabricating, or altering academic material. In addition, students must not take an examination or test in the name of another student or present another student's work as their own.
8. Misrepresentation of circumstances: Students must not misrepresent personal circumstances (e.g., illness, conflicting responsibilities, etc.) to avoid meeting academic responsibilities or to gain an academic advantage.

To avoid plagiarism, students must appropriately cite the sources of others' ideas, thoughts, and words that appear in their original work. In addition to requesting assistance from the Academic Enhancement Center, their instructors, or trusted peers, students may use a variety of technologies to improve their writing. These tools, which may include proofreading and editing features of word processing software, do not alter students' work to an extent that fundamentally affects their claim to authorship.

Instructors may use the Originality Check feature of Turnitin to see how similar student work is to online sources and to assist students in learning how to cite sources appropriately to avoid potential plagiarism. Instructors may also use applications to detect writing generated by artificial intelligence (AI). Some writing tools use AI to suggest edits, while other AI technologies, such as ChatGPT, are meant to simulate human conversation and produce writing that appears to be authored by a person. Although AI can be used for educational purposes and to develop or improve one's writing, submitting work containing AI-generated text, unless the instructor requests or explicitly allows it as part of an assignment, is prohibited.

All violations of the Academic Integrity Policy shall be resolved via the Faculty Adjudication Process and/or the Formal Resolution (Student Conduct Board hearing through the Dean of Students Office) as outlined in the Academic Integrity Policy for Academic Dishonesty Matters (Policy 4.1.1.1.2).

Artificial Intelligence

All students should be familiar with the college's policy on Acceptable Use of Artificial Intelligence \(AI\) for Academic and Administrative Purposes and the Academic Integrity Policy for Academic Dishonesty Matters.

For this course, my expectation regarding the use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) is as follows:

AI Use Prohibited- In other words, DO NOT USE AI!

The use of artificial-intelligence (AI) tools – including but not limited to text, image, video, or code generators, research assistants, or problem-solving systems – is strictly prohibited for every assignment, quiz, exam, discussion, or draft in this course. All submitted work must be wholly your own, produced without AI assistance. Submitting AI-generated or AI-assisted work constitutes academic misconduct under the college's Policy on Academic Integrity. If you are unsure whether an action constitutes AI use, ask me before proceeding.

Attendance Policy and Absences

Attendance is a strong indicator of success in this class! Please plan to attend all class sessions and be on time. If you must be absent, please review the college's attendance policy.

It is a best practice to inform me when you must be absent (see my preferred communication method) and discuss the option(s), if any, to make up missed assignments, tests, exams, etc. You do not have to share why you are absent with me directly. If you wish to provide documentation needed for the absence to be considered excused, you may submit this to the Dean of Students, and they will work with you and me.

Complaints and Grade Appeals

If you have course-related issues, please schedule an appointment to meet with me. (See the Faculty Information above for contact details). If we are unable to resolve the issue you may contact the department chair. You may seek further assistance, if needed, through the Dean's office. The college also offers you the option to file a written student complaint.

Final grade appeals may also be filed if you believe there is an error.

The student complaint process and the grade appeal process are both outlined in the Student Handbook.

Learning Resources

The college offers services and resources designed to help you succeed.

Academic Enhancement Center \(AEC\)

The AEC provides in-person tutoring, online tutoring via Tutor.com, and structured study sessions known as Peer Supplemental Instruction (PSI), as well as academic coaches who can advise you on study, test-taking, and time management skills.

Kaufman Library

The Kaufman Library is home to full-text articles, e-books, reports, statistics, and videos. The librarians and library staff are available to assist you with locating resources, research needs, course assignments, and more.

Disability Services

Disability Services provides reasonable accommodations to ensure accessible educational and social environments. If you believe you require an accommodation, initiate a request for services.

Information Technology

You may contact the Help Desk if you experience issues with using the technology needed for this course. Software, including Microsoft Office 365 and Adobe Express, is available for your use in computer labs and classrooms. If you need access to a laptop, the college offers a limited quantity, need-based laptop loaner program.

Access and Accommodations

Access and Accommodations

It is important that all students have equal access to the classroom and their education. If you have already established accommodations with Disability Services, please provide me with your Faculty Accommodation Notification, with your approved accommodations listed at your earliest convenience.

If you have not yet established services through Disability Services (located in D-1404), but have a permanent disability (such as, but not limited to: mental health, attention-related, learning, vision, hearing, physical, or health impacts), or a temporary condition that requires accommodations, you are encouraged to contact Disability Services at 678-407-5195 or disabilityservices@ggc.edu.

Disability Services offers resources and coordinates reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities and/or temporary health conditions. Georgia Gwinnett College is committed to creating an inclusive and accessible learning environment consistent with federal and state law.

Pregnancy and Pregnancy-Related Conditions Accommodations Under Title IX

GGC is committed to compliance with Title IX and to supporting the academic success of pregnant students and students with pregnancy-related conditions (pregnancy, childbirth, loss of pregnancy, lactation, and all related medical conditions or recovery).

Students experiencing pregnancy or pregnancy-related conditions may request reasonable accommodations, including but not limited to excused absences, making up missed assignments, restroom breaks, a larger desk, lactation breaks, access to lactation spaces, etc. To request pregnancy-related accommodations, students should contact the Office of Disability Services (email: disabilityservices@ggc.edu; phone: 678-407-5883) or the Office of Equal Opportunity and Title IX Compliance (email: TitleIX@ggc.edu; phone: 678-407-5085).

Students who believe they have been subject to discrimination or harassment because of their pregnancy status or pregnancy-related condition(s) may file a complaint with the Office of Equal Opportunity and Title IX Compliance.

Well-being and Safety

The college offers many resources and services to support your physical and emotional well-being in a safe environment.

Student Emergency Assistance Programs

Our emergency assistance programs include:

- Care Pantry
Provides food and necessities to students experiencing financial constraints.
- Grizzly Thrift
Provides access to free clothing for students.

Health and Wellness Programs

Health Services offers a variety of services to help you stay well.

- Medical Services
Provides care for minor injuries and illnesses, diagnostic testing, immunizations, and basic over-the-counter medications.
- Counseling and Psychological Services \(CAPS\)
Provides mental health services.
- Wellness and Recreation
Provides workout facilities, fitness classes, and intramural sports.

Disability Services

Disability Services provides reasonable accommodations to ensure accessible educational and social environments. If you require an accommodation, initiate a request for services.

Safety and Security

Public Safety offers many services to help you stay safe on campus, including safety escorts.

You'll want to stay informed about campus closures and other safety-related notifications via Rave Alert.

Grizzly Care Team

The Grizzly Care Team brings together professionals from across the college to help you or other members of the college community who may pose a threat to the safety of the college community or an individual. If you see someone experiencing challenges, appearing distressed, posing a threat to their safety or someone else's safety, or causing a significant disruption to the GGC community, please submit a Grizzly Care Team referral.

Equal Opportunity and Non-Discrimination Statement

Notice of Non-Discrimination

Georgia Gwinnett College is committed to providing a learning, working, and living environment that promotes personal integrity, civility, and mutual respect and is free of all forms of discrimination and harassment. In accordance with applicable law and Georgia Gwinnett College's Non-Discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policy, Georgia Gwinnett College prohibits discrimination on the basis of an individual's race, color, sex (including sexual harassment, marital, parental, and pregnancy status), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, ethnicity or national origin, religion, age, genetic information, disability, creed, or veteran status ("protected status"), or any other protected status or characteristic as defined by law, in its programs and activities. No individual shall be excluded from participation in, denied the benefits of, or otherwise be subjected to unlawful discrimination, harassment, or retaliation under any GGC program or activity because of the individual's protected status.

Georgia Gwinnett College is an equal employment, equal access, and equal educational opportunity institution. It is the policy and practice of our institution to recruit, hire, train, promote, retain, and educate persons without regard to their protected status, as required by applicable state and federal laws (including Title VI, Title VII, Title IX, ADA, Sections 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, and Executive Order 11246).

Any individual who feels that they may have been discriminated against should contact the Equal Opportunity and Title IX Compliance office at titleix@ggc.edu or 678-407-5085.

Students requiring disability related accommodations, please contact Disability Services.

The following person has been designated to handle inquiries regarding the non-discrimination policies:

Sharon Stellato, J.D., Interim Title IX Coordinator

Building B, Suite 3700

678.407.5085

TitleIX@ggc.edu

For more general information, please visit the Equal Opportunity and Title IX Office's website.

Sexual Misconduct Statement

Title IX prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in education programs or activities operated by recipients of Federal financial assistance. Georgia Gwinnett College is committed to creating a safe learning environment for all members of our community, free from gender and sex-based discrimination, including sexual harassment, domestic and dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking, in accordance with Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. If you or someone you know is experiencing any of these behaviors, the College has staff and resources on campus to support and assist you. For a list of resources, please visit Sexual Misconduct Resources.

Please note that the Title IX/Sexual Misconduct Policy 4.1.7 designates all faculty members, including teaching assistants, as "Responsible Employees." Under GGC's Title IX/Sexual Misconduct Policy, all "Responsible Employees” must report all disclosures of sex or gender-based discrimination or violence to GGC’s Title IX Coordinator. The Title IX Coordinator will reach out to provide resources, support, and information after receiving a report, but community members are not required to respond to such outreach. Reported information will remain private.

If you have (or someone you know has) experienced any form of sex or gender-based discrimination or violence and wish to speak with someone confidentially, please contact GGC’s Title IX Coordinator at TitleIX@ggc.edu or 678-407-5085. For more information regarding GGC’s Title IX procedures, reporting, or support measures, please visit the Equal Opportunity and Title IX Compliance office’s website.
